Dear Venita and Sam,

I am making this request in writing to formally and clearly request a copy of the recorded call(s) between myself and you.

On 8/1/2025, Venita, you recorded more than two hours of my disclosures regarding abuse, trafficking, the loss of my children, and related matters. These calls contain critical information about my lived experience, and I am entitled to access my own words and evidence.

I consented to the recording under the understanding that it would be used for the purposes of publication and safety. Instead, personal details regarding my husband and children were collected and shared without my consent.

I have requested a copy of the call(s) since 8/1/2025. As of today, 9/9/2025, this request remains outstanding. Please send the unaltered call(s) by end of today. If there are technical limitations, provide written explanation and deliver the files in the available format. You may send the files directly by email or arrange a secure method of transfer with my attorney.

Additionally, I respectfully request that you cease making inaccurate representations to crisis centers or third parties concerning my attendance at our mother's funeral. On 8/11/2025, during a three-way call with a registered nurse, a crisis advocate, and my attorney, clarification of this matter was provided. Repeating this false claim after documented correction constitutes dissemination of knowingly inaccurate information and intentional infliction of emotional harm.

This email is documented.

Respectfully,
Cagney Richards
